EDICIÓN 40
CLEI 2014
15 al 19 de setiembre
Montevideo, Uruguay

X | Conferencia Latinoamericana en Informática

LATIN-AMERICAN MASTER THESIS CONTEST

SECOND CALL FOR PAPERS (EXTENDED DEADLINE)

Program Committee Chairs

Regina Motz, Uruguay
Mariela Curiel, Venezuela

Organization Committee:
Chair

Andrea Delgado, UdelaR

Members

Daniel Canoniero, UM
Laura González, UdelaR
Carlos Luna, UdelaR
Ernesto Ocampo, UCUDAL
Ariel Sabiguero, UdelaR

Pablo Ezzatti, UdelaR
Daniel Jenci, UDE,
Gerardo Matturro, ORT
Franco Robledo, UdelaR

Important Dates

Paper submission beginning: ~~April 28~~ May 18 , 2014
Notification of acceptance: June 30, 2014
Final version submission: July 21, 2014

Scope and Motivation

The Latin-American Master Thesis Contest is an annual event that takes place in conjunction with the Conference organized by the Centro Latinoamericano de Estudios en Informática (CLEI). The objective is to disseminate the work of Latin American students who have recently completed their Master Thesis in Computer Science.

Graduated students in Master programs in Latin American Universities during the period, April 1st 2013 to March 31th 2014 may participate in the contest. The work submitted must be individual (cannot be in group).

To participate in the contest, a summary of the thesis should be submitted. A Committee will select the three best Theses.

To receive the award each winning Thesis must be presented orally at CLEI 2014. The summary of each winning Thesis will be published in the proceedings of the XL Conferencia Latinoamericana de Informática, to be held in Montevideo, 15 - 19 September 2014.

Conference Venue

The XL CLEI will be held in the Universidad de la República in Montevideo, Uruguay. Montevideo is the capital of Uruguay and is located on Río de la Plata. Montevideo has a million and a half inhabitants. CLEI is organized by Universidad de la República and Universidad Católica, ORT, de Montevideo y de la Empresa. There are good connetions between Montevideo, America and Europe, with direct flights from various cities and river and road connections with some countries.

Information for Paper Submission

Papers can be written in Spanish, Portuguese or English and have to be submitted no later than April 7, 2014. The instructions for submissions can be found at the CLEI 2014 home page: (http://clei.org/clei2014).

Three (3) files must be sent, each one must adjust to the following indications:

FIRST FILE (PRESENTATION PAGE)
Must be in PDF format and contain:
• Work Title
• Author name and e-mail (we repeat that only individual work will be accepted);
• Institution of origin,
• Institution address, including telephone and fax; and
•Name, e-mail, and address of the Thesis director.

The following two PDF files must go together in a compressed .zip file that must be included in the "attachment" section:

SECOND FILE (MASTER THESIS SUMMARY)
The summary must be between 10 and 20 pages long in one of the official accepted languages: Spanish, Portuguese, or English. It must be a PDF file, suiting to CLEI 2014 format.

THIRD FILE (SUPPORTING DOCUMENTS)
PDF format, digitalized version of every document necessary to demonstrate the authors' degree (a copy of the Master degree certificate within the established dates in this calling, or an equivalent document). Note: It is important to show that you have completed all the curriculum

Note: In the "abstract" section you must include a summary of not more than 300 words. As "keywords" you must include up to five referring key words to your work. These two sections are part of the 2nd file.

Contacts
ReginaMotz: rmotz@fing.edu.uy
Mariela Curiel: curiel.mariela @gmail.com